VARIOUS MATTERS

The rural carriers will deliver mail as usual on Saturday.

Patriotic exercises will be held in many of the schools today.

Lincoln memorial services will be held by several of the churches on Sunday.

Rising temperature melted Wednesday night's ice, leaving dry, clean walks on Thursday.

A day of bright sunshine like Thursday makes the members of the gun clubs long for the range.

Dog fanciers from this vicinity are in New York attending the bench show at Madison Square garden.

The Catholic Transcript announces that the next conference of the pastors of the diocese will be held on March 1.

The recent severe weather has made the rabbits hungry and in one orchard they have gnawed and killed fifty young apple-trees.

Japanese fete at Central Baptist church, Friday, Feb. 11, afternoon and evening, given by Vineyard Workers. Admission free.—adv.

In some Connecticut cities hay has reached $30 a ton, and buyers are bargaining for all that they can get in the surrounding towns.

John Wyse Bradford, the five-year-old son of Elizabeth and Harry Bradford, died of scarlet fever in New York February 8. Burial was private, in Calvary cemetery.

The following marriage license has been issued in Worcester: Andrew Gustaf Carlsson, 34, farmer, Pomfret, Conn.; Signe Alfrida Johnson, 21, domestic, Pomfret, Conn.

Dr. F. E. Converse of West Willington has resigned as health officer for the town of Ashford. County Health Officer George E. Hinman has appointed G. O. Balch of Ashford to fill the unexpired term.

The Connecticut branch of the National Society of the Daughters of 1812 met with Mrs. V. A. Page at Derby on Tuesday. The registrar, Miss Hyde of Brooklyn, Conn., was absent. The reports showed that there are thirty-five members in Connecticut.

Thursday's New London Telegraph said: Among the survivors of this it is understood that Eber Learned, the tenor at the Second Congregational church, has received a flattering invitation from a Hartford church. It is not certain whether Mr. Learned will accept the offer. His home is in Norwich.

For private lessons in dancing call on Prof. Kennedy, Cadillac hall. Phone 683-5. Class will open Wednesday evening, February 16.—adv.

The Bridgeport Farmer states that J. Olin Howe narrowly escaped death there Wednesday morning. While hurrying for a train on his way to his home in Waterbury, he slipped and fell directly in front of a touring car going at high speed. The driver managed to turn the car so that Mr. Howe was merely grazed.

Among the questions which the farmer must answer to the satisfaction of the census enumerator are how many chickens there are on the farm, how many eggs they lay and what is the value of the eggs. He must also tell how many hours he works every day, but does not have to explain his hours of leisure.

The second issue of state bonds under authority of the act passed by the general assembly of 1909, amounting to $2,000,000, will be made April 1. Last April an issue of bonds amounting to $1,000,000, was made. These bonds are limited to $7,000,000 and the rate of interest is 3 1/2 per cent. They become due in 1934.

John Hermanson of Fitch Hill, formerly of Myers avenue, experienced a heavy loss Sunday afternoon, when his barn, tools, three tons of hay, three cows and three calves were burned, the loss being $1,000. He had insurance of $250. He thinks that strangers, strolling past the place set the barn on fire. Mr. Hermanson moved to Fitch Hill from Norwich six years ago.

STEP TOWARD REORGANIZATION.

Receiver of Gilbert Transportation Co. Asks Permission to Sell Property.

Ex-Senator Frank S. Butterworth of New Haven, receiver of the Gilbert Transportation company of Mystic, which operates a fleet of coastwise vessels and which also has a large transportation contract in connection with the construction of the Cape Cod Canal, has filed a motion in the United States district court of Hartford asking for permission to sell all the property of the company in his possession. The property consists of a large number of sailing vessels and other craft. Judge Platt has set a hearing on the motion for Feb. 16.

The action of the receiver is a step in the plan for the reorganization of the concern. It is expected that the assets of the company will yield nearly enough to satisfy the bondholders, but that the stockholders will receive very little salvage from their investment.

CENTRAL ATHLETIC CLUB.
Special Meeting at Which Several Committees Were Named.

A special meeting of the Central Athletic Club was held Tuesday evening in their rooms in the Stead building, at which the full list of committees for their annual ball was arranged. ### FUNERALS.

Mrs. Joseph L. Roberts.
At 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning the funeral of Mrs. Joseph L. Roberts was held from the rooms of Undertaker Hourigan, and at 9 o'clock a requiem mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church by Rev. W. T. Sliney. There were many in attendance and a large number of handsome floral forms. The bearers were John O'Neil, John Riley, Michael Shea and William Hagerity. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, where a committal service was read by Rev. W. A. Keefe. From out of town there were present Mrs. Agnes Connors and Miss Mary Murphy of Boston.

Mrs. Bishop S. Church.
At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Clara A. Church, wife of Bishop S. Church, was held from the rooms of Church & Allen, there being many in attendance, including members of the church. The services were conducted by Rev. P. C. Wright, pastor of the Central Baptist church. The bearers were Theodore N. Leonard, P. Warren, W. Willard A. and Henry E. Church and John A. McHattie. The burial was in the Brewster's Neck cemetery, where a committal service was read.

Mrs. Margaret McNamara.
At 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning the funeral of Mrs. Margaret McNamara of New London was held from the rooms of M. V. Murphy, and at St. Patrick's church a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Hugh Treanor, two solos being sung by Miss Greeley. There was a number in attendance, including New London relatives. The bearers were W. R. Carver, P. J. Morley, Jeremiah Riordan and John B. Raccare. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. McNamara died at New London at the age of 87, having lived there many years with her son, the late Matthew McNamara. Her husband died thirty-five years ago. She leaves one son, John McNamara, of New London.

For Survey of Thames.
The harbor bill which will be reported to the house today contains provisions for the improvement of the Connecticut river below Hartford. Eight mile river, Shaw's cove, New Haven harbor, Bridgeport harbor and other Connecticut projects. A survey of the Thames river is authorized. No provision is made for the Connecticut river above Hartford, as the engineer's report of a survey of that vicinity authorized last year has not been received.

Thirteen-Year-Old Cat.
A handsome maltese cat, aged 13 years, belonging to Mary Fields of Ward street, was killed on Wednesday by two dogs. The cat had always been in the family and they were much attached to the pet, which, because of its age, had been deaf for some time. The dogs approached too suddenly for the old cat and soon ended its life.

Open House Club Secretary.
A brief monthly business meeting of Open House, conducted by President Nelson Poe Carey, was held Thursday evening. The resignation of Harry W. Taylor as secretary was received and accepted, his place being filled by the election of Harry C. McNaught.

REFUSE TO STOP RUNNING THEIR CARS
Pittsfield Street Railway Co. Ignore Orders of Board of Aldermen.

Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 10.—The Pittsfield Street Railway company officials paid no attention today to the order of the board of aldermen directing them to close two branch lines of their system. Although there were threats of arrest for failure to comply with the order, nothing was done and tonight the cars were still running as usual. Thus far, it is said, the aldermen have been unable to find any law which specifically indicates their right to enforce the order, and there is some difference of opinion among the members as to what the next course of action should be. The order last night following the accident of yesterday morning on the company's line in Dalton, in which one person was killed and more than a score injured.

The inquest on the death of Miss Bessie Ryan of Hinsdale, who was killed, will be held tomorrow. District Attorney (Stephen S. Taft, of Springfield, who is here to attend, says he intends to have a most thorough investigation made of the responsibility for the wreck.

To Avoid Skin Chapping

We still have the most trying months of the winter before us—February and March is the most troublesome time of the year for those who have tender skins.

To avoid skin chapping or cracking, skin roughening or harshening, we recommend the regular daily use of SMITH'S VELVET COLD CREAM—either with or without oil, as the individual case demands.

This delightful toilet aid keeps the skin soft and smooth and in the best possible condition. Give it a trial—it will surely win your favor.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF MUSICIANS

Delightful Programme Followed by Feast—Attendance Numbered Sixty-Five.

Once a year the Musicians' union, local No. 245, A. F. of M., conducts a social affair of great interest, their annual banquet, which is always largely attended and an event awaited with anticipation. This was again the case on Thursday evening, when their annual banquet was given in Pythian hall, with an attendance of about 65. Among those was William Dyson, a former member of the union, who had come on from Philadelphia for the banquet, and several of the women musicians of the city, this being the first banquet which had been honored by the attendance of the ladies.

At 8 o'clock Prof. Charles W. Tubbs marshaled his band of about 30 pieces and a fine programme of five numbers was given. The selections were: Overture, Martha, Jarvis Flowet.

RUBBER SOCIAL AT SPIRITUAL ACADEMY
An Old Gunshoe Was Part of the Price of Admission and 200 Pounds Were Secured.

A rubber social, conducted by the Helping Hands, Thursday evening, at the Spiritual Academy, was a very successful one for the large number attending and was remunerative from a financial point of view in a satisfactory manner. It was specified that some article of old rubber should be part of the admission fee to be tendered by each patron and in this way about 200 pounds of old rubber, which will realize a good sum for the treasury, was received. A rubber plant, which was the prize to the individual bringing the most money due the trouble arose. Mrs. William F. Bogue, who contributed 51 pounds 15 ounces.

OBITUARY.

Miss Annie E. Muzzy.
At eight o'clock Thursday evening the death of Annie Elizabeth Muzzy occurred at her late home in Hallville from cardiac dropsy. She had been in poor health for the past two years, but was seriously ill for the past seven weeks.

Miss Muzzy was born in North Groton, daughter of William Muzzy and Mary McTearigan Muzzy, on June 30, 1881. Her father died when she was three years of age and her mother subsequently married, her name now being Mrs. Mary Perry. The deceased at one time resided in Montville. She had been employed when able in Hallville mill. Besides her mother, she leaves a half sister, Miss Katherine M. Richardson of Hallville. She had many friends in this city. Burial is to be in Montville.

Mrs. Henrietta F. Cook.
Mrs. Henrietta Frances Cook died at her home, No. 312 Windsor avenue, Hartford, Wednesday afternoon, after a week's illness. She would have been 92 years of age next May. Even at her advanced age she retained her eyesight and hearing nearly perfect, and her memory and all mental faculties to a remarkable degree. She was remembered by those who knew her well as a woman of great personality, generous even to great self-sacrifice in behalf of those she loved or whose interests she felt. With delicate independence she lived alone and cared for herself until her last illness.

Mrs. Cook was a daughter of Amasa Cook (Hazen) of Franklin, Conn., a lineal descendant of the first William Hyde and several others of the original settlers of Norwich. She was married to William F. Cook, who died in 1862. In 1864 she married Moses Cook of Hartford and had since resided there. The Cooks died in 1871. She had no children, but a large number of nephews and nieces survive her in different parts of the country, four of whom, Mrs. James C. Pratt, Mrs. Warren I. Farrar, Mrs. Samuel Swan and John H. Peck, are living in Hartford. She had long been a communicant of St. Thomas' church, Hartford.

Mrs. John C. Gevers.
Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. John C. Gevers, which occurred at the home of her daughter in New York city on Tuesday, where she had been for two weeks. Mrs. Gevers resided alone in the basement of the Sturtevant house at the time of the recent fire, and was taken out by Policeman Driscoll.

She was born in Bremen, Germany, and for forty years has lived in this country, the most of the time being spent in New York, where her husband, who was a cigar-maker, died twenty years ago. Since that time she has lived here with her son, Herman Gevers, besides whom she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Hester and Mrs. Frank Warner of New York city. She was well known among the German residents of this city.

AT BROADWAY THEATER.

Midweek Change in Vaudeville and Pictures.

Remainder of the Broadway theater for the remainder of the week are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Colby, who have a clever and mystifying black art musical act called Kimo. The audiences never fail to appreciate their work and they get big applause.

Rogers & Evans, presenting a matrimonial squabble, are good entertainers and have a lively bit. They are all finely trained and do all kinds of stunts, from standing on one hind leg to smoking a cigarette. It is a small circus and a pleasing act in every particular.

Charles Reilly in A Character Study makes a clever troupe of dogs, monkeys and a bear. They are all finely trained and do all kinds of stunts, from standing on one hind leg to smoking a cigarette. It is a small circus and a pleasing act in every particular.

DAIRY INSTITUTE
To Be Held at the Preston City Congregational Church About the 24th of This Month.

Arrangements are being made for a dairy institute to be held at the Preston City Congregational church vestry later in the month, probably about the 24th, by the Connecticut Dairymen's association and under the auspices of the Preston City church. There will be a number of speakers among whom it is expected that President Wilson H. Lee of New Haven will be present and make an address.

Festival March (Resch).

Intermezzo, Klases, Hubbell Selection, The Midnight Sun, Hubbell Klases, according to the arrangements made by the committee, MacDougall was busy in the kitchen concocting one of those oyster chowders for which he is famous, which was pronounced ready at 9:30, and all sat down in the banquet hall to discuss the spread. This was pronounced of the first quality. The committee in charge comprised C. W. Tubbs, E. E. Baker and W. B. Young, Jr.

After the return to the hall cigars were passed and Professor Tubbs conducted an orchestra of 15 pieces in an enjoyable and well rendered programme. The evening was declared eminently satisfactory by all present and starts the union in good shape on this year. Its officers are E. E. Baker, president; C. W. Tubbs, vice president, and Fred N. Clark, secretary and treasurer.

LAFAYETTE MAIN THINKS HE MISSED HIS CALLING.

Likes to Argue and is Happy When a Suit is in Progress—Has Several New Suits.

Lafayette F. Main, who says he is burdened with citizenship in the town of North Stonington, was in Westerly last week. He was looking for a suitable and strong frame for preserving under glass the receipts which he has in his possession. They are the very best evidences of what the several recent legal suits cost him. He says he wants to save them for his several children to look at.

He says that his legal debts are paid and that he feels that the legal courts are now square with him and that he has paid about as much as any man ought to. The two most interesting checks were those with writing in red ink across their face. They were both certified checks. One was for the sum of $335.35, which he paid Jan. 22 to Brown & Perkins of Norwich in settlement of the case in which they sued him. It had written across its face of it in red ink: "This check settles all my dealings with Brown & Perkins in full to date." They refused to settle with that kind of a receipted check, and brought suit to make Mr. Main settle with a check without the red letters. But the check that was finally handed to them bore the same red letters with a little different language. It said: "This check is in full settlement for the judgment rendered in the case of Brown & Perkins vs. Lafayette F. Main in court of common pleas." The difference in the amount is only $41.73, which Mr. Main says is the amount of costs in court. He says: "They had to take my check, and then he throws out his chest and tells how he, a layman, went to court and argued the case with a couple of lawyers."

But this case is not the only one that Mr. Main has settled. He also has a check from Attorney B. H. Hewitt of Mystic which he will also have in his frame. The check is for $337.69, and reads across the face in red ink: "This check is in full settlement for the judgment rendered in the case of Ben Hewitt vs. Lafayette F. Main in the court of common pleas, provided this check is paid."

But Lafayette loves law. He likes to argue, and says that he finds his calling when he becomes a farmer under the shadow of Lantern Hill. He believes there is good money in law, as he has had experience. But he says that he will not stand for persecution. He thinks that the selection of North Stonington are getting after him for the suit which he started against them several months ago. They have raised the valuation of his property $800 and he says that is the reason he appeared before the board of relief and asked for a reduction. He told them what he thought of the town organization. He could see no reason why his property should be of more value when he had made no improvements. While he was "talking" to the town folks for their benefit, as he puts it, one of the selectmen asked him how much the case against them cost him. There was a titter that went around the room and Lafayette says that is good evidence that they have raised his valuation to get back at him. The board did not take it to meet Feb. 21, and Mr. Main says: "You want to be there and see what I am going to tell the town fathers and the big crowd who will be sure to be present. I am going to talk for the benefit of the town people."

As told in the press last summer, Lafayette Main lost a number of steers on the Norwich and Westerly road. He has put in his claim for the damages. He also has many other claims against the bankrupt road and Lafayette says that he will probably get about one cent on the dollar. His bill included one steer killed April 1908, at $25, one heifer killed April 1909, at $35, seven steers killed in August of last year at $75 apiece. There are other damages that bring the total damage up to nearly $2,500.
